OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

Greetings, and welcome to Louisville!

Whether you have come from near or far, on behalf of the city of Louisville, I would like to welcome you to our city and to the 63rd annual St. James Court Art Show.

The St. James Court Art Show is a one-of-a-kind event that began as fundraiser for the neighborhood association and now years later has become one of the premier art shows in the country, where we will welcome over 200,000 guests to our city.

The art pieces that you will find lining the Old Louisville streets will wow you in their creativity and uniqueness. The people that you pass, in their diversity and enthusiasm, will bring a smile to your face. There is great energy in the air every first full weekend in October!

While in Louisville, you will find that we are a compassionate and vibrant city offering top-notch facilities, one-of-a-kind attractions, one of the best food and beverage scenes in the world and lots of places to have fun. From Museum Row on Main Street to many new bourbon experiences, Jefferson Memorial Forest (the largest city-owned forest in America) and Churchill Downs – there is something for everyone.

Thank you to the volunteers, sponsors, and residents of the Old Louisville neighborhood who give many, many hours to embrace this national treasure we have in the St. James Court Art Show.

Thank you for visiting the St. James Court Art Show. I hope you enjoy your time in Louisville. Enjoy the Art Show and come back soon!

Sincerely,

Greg Fischer
Mayor

LOUISVILLE METRO COUNCIL
OFFICE OF PRESIDENT DAVID JAMES

From President David James

On behalf President David James of the Louisville Metro Council, it is my distinct pleasure to welcome you to the 63rd Anniversary and celebration of the St. James Court Art Show.

Ranked in the Top Ten Fine Arts Shows in the nation, this autumn tradition draws over 250,000 visitors every year who come to purchase unique handcrafted items directly from the hands that crafted them.

The show is held in the heart of historic Old Louisville who boasts the largest collection of Victorian homes in the country, of which I am proud to represent and is an elegant backdrop for this display of fine and crafts, that will be exhibited and sold along Saint James Court, Belgravia Court, Magnolia Avenue and the adjacent blocks of Third and Fourth Streets.

Again, welcome and congratulations on your 63rd Anniversary and send my very best wishes.

Sincerely,

David James

President Metro Council Member
District 6

A Letter from the Executive Director of the St. James Court Art Show

It's a great story. What began with just 11 artists who hung their paintings on a clothesline strung between two trees on St. James Court, is now recognized as the #1 Fine Art & Design Show in America, according to the 2019 issue of Sunshine Artist Magazine. Since 1957, The St. James Court Art Show has been held in the same historic Old Louisville location on St. James Court and surrounding streets. This year marks its 63rd anniversary of The St. James Court Art Show, which makes it one of the longest-running art shows of its kind in the country.

The St. James Court Art Show is host to over 650 artists from over 46 states and Canada. An estimated 250,000 people attend the art show over the three-day weekend. Over the years demand became so strong or high that adjoining neighborhoods signed on, commemorative posters and merchandise were created, and food vendors were recruited to help manage the quickly growing crowds. Many people don't know that St. James Court Art Show is run primarily by volunteers. The art show is composed through a consortium of small neighborhoods in Old Louisville, including St. James Court, Belgravia Court, South Fourth Street, Third Street, 1300 Third Street Neighborhood Associations and West End Baptist Church.

The St. James Court Art Show is well known as one of Metro Louisville's most iconic events. In fact, it has become such an important part of the Louisville cultural landscape that local schools are closed on its opening day. Only one other event, Kentucky Oaks Day at Churchill Downs shares such an honor.

Thankfully revenues today are far higher than the $150 earned at the first show, since funds are primarily reinvested into the upkeep of the neighborhood's cobblestone sidewalks, gaslights, majestic fountains, mature trees and landscaping. We're proud to say Metro Louisville bears no expense for renovation or upkeep of Old Louisville property or landmarks. No Home Owner Association fees are collected because the St. James Court Art Show income pays for work that typically HOA fees would cover.

We are often asked who benefits from the St. James Court Art Show? Here are a few highlights:

- The annual economic impact for Metro Louisville is over $5 million (Louisville Convention and Visitors Bureau).
- Total artist sales equate to about $2.5 million annually (Kentucky Department of Revenue).
- Numerous neighborhood schools, churches and institutions use parking as a major fundraiser during the art show and usually raise $50-$60,000 each.
- The art show's neighborhood associations' annual contributions to Old Louisville, and neighborhood maintenance costs about $250,000-$300,000 per year.
- Lastly, through our high school art show competition The St. James Court Art Show awards approximately $50,000 in scholarship money to high school students annually.

None of this would be possible without you, whether you're a local or you traveled to Louisville, an artist or attendee, volunteer or vendor, we're happy you're here and thank you for supporting the St. James Court Art Show!

Sincerely,

Howard Rosenberg
St. James Court Art Show Executive Director

St. James Court Art Show 2019 Print

The St. James Court Art Show selected Mark D. Bird, renowned watercolor artist and nephew of St. James Court Art Show founder, Malcolm Bird, to create a new print series, "A Sense of Place: A Collection of Fine Art Prints". The first print in the series is entitled, "Saturday morning coffee at 1418 St. James Court".

The print series will feature the highest-quality giclee fine art reproductions in signed and numbered editions of 100 prints. These reproductions will be printed on 100% cotton rag archival paper, using pigmented inks which offer lightfastness up to 75 years. Each print will also receive an original pencil remarque by the artist to assure its authenticity. Stephen W. Brown will contribute his original research into Old Louisville and St. James Court history by writing about the subject of each year's edition. Each print in this collection will be released on an annual basis for a period of ten years. Prints can be purchased at St. James Court Art Show for $200 or by emailing kclayton@stjamescourtartshow.com. Specific print numbers are available on a first-come, first-served basis. The original watercolor painting has been sold to an anonymous collector.

Artist Statement

As the subject of the first print in the collection "A Sense of Place", the duPont cottage holds perhaps more history than any other home on St. James Court.

My history with the cottage was established through my introduction to Ethel B. duPont by my uncle,

The Art Print may be purchased at Booth #SJ-225 across from The St. James Court Fountain.

Malcolm Bird. Malcolm, who lived at 1436 St. James Court, and Ethel, formed a bond which would last for the rest of their lives.

Ethel B. duPont was the granddaughter of Antoine Bidermann duPont. The duPont family heirs sold their Central Park property to the City of Louisville in 1904. There were several buildings on the family estate, among which was the little frame cottage, known generally as a "gardener's cottage."

This cottage was relocated to its present site after the duPont family bought lots on St. James Court, and was situated at the rear of the present lot near the alley. In time, the great expanse of front yard became overgrown with foliage and trees. This then, was how I had always remembered Ethel's home: a tangle of brush and scrubby undergrowth at the street, with a masterfully manicured inner garden nearest the cottage. And it was the dichotomy of these two modes of gardening that inspired me to paint this scene in the manner you see before you.

Ethel duPont was a gardener extraordinaire. Her papers were bequeathed to the Filson Historical Society and in my research of them, I discovered her correspondence with a seed company in Chicago, IL. She had requested seeds of countless perennials to add to her "...garden of cut and potted flowers..."

From this list, I set about painting this scene of the ultimate urban garden with all of the flowers she had imagined. It was a great art adventure, painting flowers I hoped she would have planted, having designed her wish list so as to have color throughout the growing season.

Malcolm and Ethel drank strong coffee, lots of strong coffee. As a matter of fact, Malcolm always told me of his love for strong coffee after years of sharing a cup with Ethel on her front porch. There they would solve the world's problems, and closer to home, would imagine how to raise awareness of the then derelict St. James Court. It was on this porch, that these two people eventually arrived at the idea of holding an outdoor art show, after having several financially unsuccessful outdoor dramatic performances to raise funds. In those early, formative days of the preservation of St. James Court, Malcolm traveled to Europe with his friends Bob Smith and Jim Perry. It was in the Portobello area of London, over many cups of coffee, where the idea of the St. James Court Art Show was given wings.

A cup of coffee never tasted so good.

It is the highest honor as an artist to be allowed to capture this sense of place, knowing that it was an inspiring location from which the preservation of this neighborhood was born.

- When placing Custom Orders, do not pay in cash.
- Take business cards or other contact information from the artist if you are placing an order and discuss your delivery expectations before leaving the booth.
- Always get a receipt for each of your purchases.

Souvenir t-shirts are available at Booth #SJ-225 across from the St. James Court Fountain.

August 7, 2019

Welcome to Louisville!

We're thrilled that you've joined us as we celebrate the 63rd annual St. James Court Art Show, recently named the #1 Best Fine Art & Design Show in America by *Sunshine Artist magazine. Special events are among the top drivers for visitation to the city of Louisville and have big impact on our community. We will welcome 250,000 attendees to the St James Court Art Show and the event will have an estimated economic impact of over $5 million dollars adding to Louisville's 16.4 million visitors annually and supporting the over 26,000 local jobs in the hospitality industry.

In addition to meeting and exploring the work of a plethora of local Kentucky artists and hundreds of artists from all around the world, we hope you'll take a moment to notice the "work of art" that is the beautiful neighborhood that the St James Court Art Show calls home. We're excited for you to immerse yourself in historic Old Louisville. This neighborhood has the largest collection of restored Victorian homes in the country and is the third largest Historical Preservation District in the U.S. Built as a suburb in the 1870s, Old Louisville consists of nearly 48 city blocks of Victorian-era homes – considered the oldest, largest and most beautifully preserved homes in the city. Amid the rich architecture of this community, you'll also find quaint bed and breakfast inns and excellent dining options, surrounded by the beauty of Louisville's own Central Park- the official home to the Kentucky Shakespeare Festival.

Whether you're into history, horses, arts, Ali, adventure, baseball or Bourbon, Louisville has something for everyone, and we encourage you to make time to discover our city's one of kind attractions while you are here. However, we still believe one of our strongest assets is the people who work in and call Louisville home. Their quick smiles and southern hospitality help to create an atmosphere in which even the most sophisticated can relax – it's no wonder Travel + Leisure said Louisville is one of the "Friendliest Cities in America". For these and many other reasons you will soon discover that Louisville is a place that is easy to get to and hard to leave. Please come back and visit us often and enjoy your time at the St. James Court Art Show.

Cheers!

College Art Scholarships Awarded

The 2019 St. James Scholarship Foundation competition was hosted at the University of Louisville Cressman Center for Visual Arts Gallery. We are thrilled about our partnership with University of Louisville's Hite Art Institute, and we are thankful for the exciting changes that happened this year.

The Cressman Gallery, located on E. Main Street, displayed this year's high school student art entries to the public from September 11 through September 20. This was a wonderful opportunity for each student to display his or her own art for all to view. Prior to the end of the showing, The St. James Court Art Show Scholarship Foundation held a reception and awards ceremony for all participating students and their families. The portfolio of each winner has been transferred to the Old Louisville Neighborhood Council's office in Central Park, where they are currently on display. I invite you to stop by and simply take in the beautiful creations these young artists have created. We wish all of the participants a bright future and great success in their education and promising career! I'm looking forward to seeing them soon, in their own booth, right here in the St. James Court Art Show!

I would personally like to thank the teachers and administrators from every participating school for your assistance and love of the arts, as you invest your personal time to help these students achieve their goals in an art career. Without you this program would never take place and so many deserving students would miss out on a great opportunity and promising career in the world of art.

This is the 47th year since St. James Court Associations awarded the first high school scholarship, and it continues to grow and support young adults achieve their goal to a successful career in the arts. The education scholarships presented for the 2019 competition totaled $45,000.00! The Foundation relies on generous donations from the St. James Court Association and the partnership with University of Louisville's Hite Art Institute, to fulfill these scholarships. We are continually looking for sponsors who have a love for the arts and are willing to invest in the future of our young adults in order to keep the scholarship program growing; enabling further expansion of the number of scholarships available in the Kentuckiana area.

If you share the same passion as we do and would like to be a part of this wonderful opportunity, I encourage you to contact us so we can explore what great things we can do together for the future of the visual arts, and our young adults, to cultivate this wonderful talent they possess!

"We must invest in our future generations; it's our responsibility as an individual and as a community,"

-KW. (Bill) Holladay Jr. Chairman, St. James Court Scholarship Foundation

St. James Court Art Show named the #1 Best Fine Art & Design Show in America by Sunshine Artist Magazine!

"We are extremely excited about the honor of being selected #1. The credit really goes to all the people who work tirelessly throughout the year on the show. We must also give recognition to our family of artists who exhibit their work at our show and make it so very special. Thanks again from the St James Court Art Show, A Sense of Place."

- Howard Rosenberg, St. James Court Art Show Executive Director

Launched in 1993, Sunshine Artist magazine's 200 Best ranks the nation's most profitable art and craft festivals based on subscribers' reported sales. This year's number one Fine Art and Design show is the St. James Court Art Show.

Information about all the shows that made the 2019 200 Best list is available in Sunshine Artist's September 2019 issue.

Visit our exciting new exhibit space! The Plaza - A Community Exhibit Space benefitting The West End Baptist Church.

On display will be a select number of ArtCars, vehicles that have been artistically painted or decorated. A 78-year-old institution, the West End Baptist Church is a pillar of the African American religious community. Revenue streams such as the St. James Court Art Show help them maintain their historic building and fund essential community services.

The Art Show thanks...

a+h marketing for their efforts in sharing the awesomeness that is "St. James"!

What separates a+h marketing from the rest is their passion for creative storytelling. Why? Because the success of any business starts with a good story. a+h's creative solutions are never limited to a specific medium or process, but they are always focused on creating solutions customized to fit each client's specific needs while delivering a measurable result.

In addition to the Art Show, a+h marketing proudly works with other Old Louisville events, including the Old Louisville Holiday Home Tour. Discover more at ahadvertising.com.

Scott Gilbertson for his tireless dedication to the St. James Court Art Show!

After winning the poster competition in 2009, it's been my pleasure to work with the Art Show to help create the design materials for one of our nation's premier art shows.

*Since moving to Poland in 2017, my latest project is Spirited Travelers, part diary and part travelogue, about our travels in Poland and the rest of Europe.*
